Short Inspirational stories are powerful reads;

The great thing about them is that they're so easy to digest, and there's always a moral at the end of the story. Whether they're true stories or not is another thing, as many of them are legends supposedly hundreds of years old. However, the stories that I'm talking about are so powerful and inspirational that many of them really do get you thinking and even leave you speechless at times.

The Elephant Rope (Inspirational Short Stories)

A gentleman was walking through an elephant camp, and he spotted that the elephants weren't being kept in cages or held by the use of chains. All that was holding them back from escaping the camp, was a small piece of rope tied to one of their legs.

As the man gazed upon the elephants, he was completely confused as to why the elephants didn't just use their strength to break the rope and escape the camp. They could easily have done so, but instead, they didn't try to at all. Curious and wanting to know the answer, he asked a trainer nearby why the elephants were just standing there and never tried to escape.

The trainer replied; "when they are very young and much smaller we use the same size rope to tie them and, at that age, it's enough to hold them. As they grow up, they are conditioned to believe they cannot break away. They believe the rope can still hold them, so they never try to break free."

The only reason that the elephants weren't breaking free and escaping from the camp was that over time they adopted the belief that it just wasn't possible.

Moral of the story:

No matter how much the world tries to hold you back, always continue with the belief that what you want to achieve is possible. Believing you can become successful is the most important step in actually achieving it.

How to judge a German Modeneser

Translated from Dutch and submitted by Jan Lombard

Type & station = most important

The German Modeneser is the smallest and most moderate breed of the Hen Pigeon group. This fact alone emphasizes the importance of the correct type combined with the correct station. How should the type be?

Here one should distinguish between two aspects:
a) elegance and b) correct ratios.

When the elegance mention under a) is disregarded in striving for longer necks and legs, it easily gets lost. Although a cock is naturally more masculine than a hen, the overall impression that it is big or coarse should never be created. The first hint to a breeder or judge that a German Modena is too coarse, is when the band sits too tight on the leg. Even though a specific rings size per breed is no longer required as long as the ring cannot be removed, a 7mm (A size) ring is a must to guarantee elegance.

The neck should be long and slender, but never shorter or longer than the legs. Even though a cock will naturally have a heavier neck than a hen, and as a result of a temperament of the breed likes to blow itself up a bit, this should never be excessive. Currently a slightly heavier neck is accepted to ensure a fuller and better rounded head, as a thinner and more slender neck leads to a snipey narrow head. The throat should be cut-out well and the neck should be tight feathered. With such tight feathers the neck will look more slender. One should however take into account that white feathers will never be as tight as coloured feathers.

The wings should be carried close to the body and may not cross. Wings that hang below the tail are not acceptable and should result in 91 points at the most. The body should feel solid and strong, a crooked keel is a disqualification. The underline of a German Modeneser is also important. Seen in profile, this should form an uninterrupted curve from neck to tail. To achieve this, the bird should have enough chest depth. Loose feathers behind the legs offer break this curve (double decker).

The ratios mentioned under b) determines the correct type of the German Modena. This makes or breaks the breed!

We have to do with the most moderate of the Hen Pigeons when it comes to type. Extremities in neck and leg length are not wanted and destroy the required elegance. The correct ratio for type is: length to Height = 2:3. The statement: "The longer the neck and legs, the better" is wrong. The height of a German Modeneser consists out of three equal parts: neck length = body depth = length of legs.

Length should be 2/3's of height. This is not always achieved. Many German Modenas have slightly long backs, which disturbs the ratios. Breeders try to address this with longer legs and necks, but when these are equal in length, realise that the backs are too long, and not that the necks or legs too short. To achieve the correct length the tail should not be too long, but short and narrow. Birds that excel in these ratios often fall short in not having enough depth of chest. In judging however elegance and the correct ratios are more important than an uninterrupted underline. A bird without enough depth of chest should not score more than 93. One should however keep in mind that tight feathering do not enhance a deep chest and set moderate demands in this regard.

The order of importance when judging type is therefore:

- 1 Ratios in height
- 2 Ratios in length
- 3 Elegance
- 4 Close / tight feathering
- 5 Underline and width of chest

Width of chest mention under 5 has not yet been discussed. The chest may not be narrow. The wing bows should be covered well.

The Station

The second point, closely related to type, is the station of a German Modeneser. This should be absolutely horizontal, with the tail slightly higher. There should not be deviated from this. If you mentioned "sloping station" on the pen card, you can give only one final judgement – 90 points. The bird should be given a fair opportunity to show itself, as a sloping station is not common. A sign of a purebred German Modeneser, is when it stations on its toes. Judges should look out for this. Legs form part of station. These should be clean – without any feathers and red in colour.

The tail is carried too high,
with loose feathering below the vent.

Over extended knee joints, X- (knock-kneed) or O-legs ("bak bene") is good for only 90 points. Even straight legs (with no angle between the featherless and feathered part) should receive attention. The last important point in judging station is how the tail is carried. This should be slightly above the horizontal. Often it is carried too high, which is mostly linked to a back that is too short. It is mainly the scarce colours that are plagued by this. The tail should never be broad or loose. Such a bird is not fit for the show bench.

The most common deviation in type and station are:

- coarse in build, lack of elegance
- short neck or short legs
- long back
- thick neck
- tail carried too high
- shallow and narrow chest
- loose plumage

The head is very important when judging the German Modeneser. The head always should be properly observed in the judging pen. A clear distinc-

The demarcation of the head is not clear; the neck feathers is too loose; lacking
chest and chest depth.

Not enough frontal, bib too low, feathers on legs not smooth, shallow station.

Full throat (not cut away enough), thick neck, rough feathering in the neck.

tion should be made between cocks and hens. The head should follow a curved line from the base of the beak to the neck, with a blunt angle at the beak. The highest point should be above the eye. The frontal should be well filled. "Stirn" in the German language.

Snipey head and thin beak

German Modeneser – ideal head

Not enough frontal and thin beak

Shallow head (not enough height above the eye)

Not enough back skull

Too much back skull

The frontal should be slightly protruding from the base of the beak. This indicates purity. The base of the beak should be wide enough. The head should not be stretched out too much – i.e. too much back skull. This is a common fault. Keep in mind during judging that a cock has a fuller and rounder head than a hen. If this is not the case, the cocks head is either too snipey, or the hen is excellent. On average Gazzi's have better heads than Schietti's, and as a result they have thicker necks. Scarce colours mostly have poor snipey heads.

Pigeons with coarse heads should be penalised. The maximum possible score should then be 93 points. The ideal is heads that are not too long or powerful. The head should not be "hanging", but position so that the frontal is displayed correctly. Lastly one should look for a well cut out throat, since a throat that is too full results in a coarse head.

The most common head faults are:

- Flat head
- Snipey narrow frontal
- Too much back skull
- Too narrow at the base of the beak

Eye Colour

High demands are set for eye colour. This should be orange-red, but then as much as possible to firey red, almost "uitspringen". In the strongest colours like blue Gazzi and Black Schietti eye colour is even more important. Yellowy eyes should cost a few points. Any deviation in the pupil and any "vlek- kie" of the iris should lead to 90 points. The same should happen if the colour of the two eyes differ – i.e. one eye being redder than the other.

In certain colours there should be an exception of these strict rules. Since red and yellow pigmented pigeons have lighter eyes, the rule should be: the redder the better. Long discussions over eye colour resulted in Silver Dun and Russert-tri being less popular. These colours cannot genetically have orange-red eyes. There will always be a white inner circle present, resulting a so-called false pearl eye colour associated with brown pigmented pigeons. The only other exception to the rule is whites with bull eyes

Eye Ceres

Eye ceres follow onto eye colour. This can be described as almost invisible, it goes hand-in-hand with feather colour and is narrow and fine. Being almost invisible is very important in the top colours. In Black Schietti the eye ceres should be absolute black. The lightest indication of lighter colour or open eye ceres, should be dealt with severely. Judging of the eye cere should take place while the bird is in the pen. When taken into the hand, the bird will pull its feathers closer, which will make the eye ceres more prominent. Any indication of reddish eye ceres should be heavily penalised. It should be taken into account that red and yellow birds have lighter eye ceres that are more visible. Coarse eye ceres makes a German Modeneser unfit for the show bench. Whites with bull eyes is the only exception, as they should have red eye ceres.

Colours

To discuss all colours in detail is an impossible task. To determine if a colour is recognised or not, we refer you to the list below, which corresponds with the list in the German standard. The most popular colours in Holland & Belgium will be discussed elsewhere on the website. High demands are set for colour quality and dull colours are not acceptable.

Clear demarcation between white and colour is required in Gazzi. In the head this is not normally problematic, but trimming should never be visible. The most common fault is that the white reaches up to far at the back of the head, and the bibs reaches to low below the beak.

Coloured feathers in the white parts and white feathers in the coloured parts is good for a total score of 91 points only. The tail should be sharply demarcated – on the back as well as below the vent. Gazzi's often have coloured feathers on their legs, which is clearly visible in darker coloured pigeons, especially blacks. If not too prominent, these "socks" are accepted. In Gazzis the back should be white, except for the little "bridge" between the wings, which should never deteriorate into a richly coloured back. Enough white space should be left between the "bridge" and the tail. Toe nail colour matches feather colour, BUT is of no significance in the show value of the bird. This means that a Black Gazzi will have black toe nails, but if one or a few are white, the bird can still score 97 points.

For the breeder the appearance of white toenails is the first sign of loss of pigment, which should be guarded against in his breeding program. The beak colour also follows the feather colour and is very important. In colours where a dark beak is required, a light spot will make the bird unsuitable for showing.

In total there are 74 recognised colours in the German Modena, which you will find ordered by category in the list below.

Jan Lombard note:

With all the colour genes, pattern genes, spread gene and modifiers already available in this list of 72 colours, the knowledgeable breeder will be able to breed a lot more colours. You will for instance notice blue Grizzle below. This can be bred with bronze bars or black bars. There is a mealy Grizzle listed, but no Silver Grizzle, Cream bar, Brown bar or Khaki bar Grizzle. Although Andalusian is listed, no provision is made for barless (no tail bar), barred or checked Indigos in either Gazzi or Schietti. The list con-

Noord-Vrystaat Streek se streekskou het plaasgevind op 4 Mei 2019 te Odendaalsrus.

Noord-Vrystaat het van skou lokaal verander na Odensia Primêre Laerskool te Odendaalsrus. Baie dankie aan Piet Odendaal wat dit vir ons gereël het. Die skool se fasaliteite is netjies en daar is genoeg spasie om 'n lekker groot skou aan te bied.

Daar is lekker braaigeriewe, tafels en stoele en die snoepie langs die saal. Die mense wat die kos voorsien en die snoepie hanteer doen dit baie professioneel. Baie dankie aan Christo Nel en sy ouers vir die gebruik van hulle fasaliteite die afgelope paar jaar. Hulle het die streek en sy lede altyd baie goed behandel. Ons het baie lekker by Conloo Joinery geskou. Hulle moes elke jaar hulle werk stop wat hulle in die lokaal gedoen het om die skou lokaal vir ons reg te maak. Ons waardeer dit baie.

Daar was baie belangstellendes wat die skou te Odensia besoek het. Dana Greyling en Piet Odendaal het die hokke geskuif en Dana berg dit by sy seun se besigheid.

Baie dankie Dana en Piet. Gert Venter, Piet Odendaal, Manie van Aart en Hennie Huyser het die nuwe saal netjies reg gemaak vir die skou. Baie dankie julle vir die groot werk.

Dankie aan die vertoners en beoordelaars. Sonder julle kan daar nie 'n skou wees nie. Christo Munnik het van KwaZulu-Natal af gekom om as hoofbeoordelaar op te tree. Baie dankie.

Die skou was 'n groot sukses met 514 duiwe, 50 rasse en 19 vertoners. Dankie Matt dat jy nog tot net 'n paar dae voor die skou inskrywings geneem het. Ds. Hennie Hattingh het die beoordelaars hanteer. Dankie daarvoor.

Die volgende dag het Dana en sy span die saal afgebreek en skoon gemaak. Dana se knie is die vorige week geopereer. Dankie dat jy kans gesien het vir die saal.

Met samewerking was dit 'n baie lekker skou.

Reddersburg Jeugskou 10 Mei 2019
 Ingestuur deur Attie v Aswegen

Op Vrydag 10 Mei 2019 het ons dag om 04:00 begin. Ons is om 05:00 weg uit Kroonstad met 'n bussie vol kinders, hoenders, duif en konyne. Die trok- kie met drie vleisbeeste kort op ons hakke na Reddersburg.

Hoërskool Hendrik Potgieter, Landbouskool te Reddersburg het hulle Jeug- skou en fees op 10 Mei 2019 gehou. Daar was 52 deelnemers wat in 13 verskillende afdelings geskou het en 8 beoordelaars. Die dag was 'n groot sukses. Daar is ook elke jaar 'n sportdag wat baie aandag geniet. Die leerd- ers wat deelgeneem het het goed gedoen.

Daar was drie kinders wat met duiwe geskou het. Een Junior Junior en een junior wat met sierduiwe skou en een junior wat met wedvlugduiwe geskou het. Die ander drie kon nie skou nie as gevolg van skool verpligtinge. Van hulle het tussen wedstryde deur kom skou. Die kinders is baie positief teenoor jeugskou en sport. Die skoolhoof, Mnr. Christi Swarts en 'n paar onderwysers is 'n groot dryfveer vir jeugskou en sport op Reddersburg. Baie dankie aan hulle wat hulle vir die kinders doen.

Reddersburg is deel van die Vrystaat span wat gesetel is te Kroonstad Blouskool met voorsitter mnr. Frikkie van Zyl met 'n goeie bestuur saam met hom. Ons sien uit na die Vrystaat Jeugskou kampio- enskappe op 12 Julie 2019 te Kroonstad.
